who lives and reigns with you in the unity of the Holy Spirit,

FIRST READING Job 38:1, 8-11

A reading from the book of Job.
From the heart of the tempest the Lord gave Job his answer. He said:
Who pent up the sea behind closed doors when it leapt tumultuous out of the womb, when I wrapped it in a robe of mist and made black clouds its swaddling bands; when I marked the bounds it was not to cross and made it fast with a bolted gate?
Come thus far, I said, and no farther:
here your proud waves shall break.

The word of the Lord.
Thanks be to God.

PSALM Psalm 106(107):23-26, 28-32

Response:
O give thanks to the Lord, for his love endures for ever.

- Some sailed to the sea in ships to trade on the mighty waters.
These men have seen the Lord's deeds, the wonders he does in the deep. (R.)
- For he spoke; he summoned the gale, tossing the waves of the sea up to heaven and back into the deep;
their soul melted away in their distress. (R.)

- Then they cried to the Lord in their need and he rescued them from their distress.
He stilled the storm to a whisper:
all the waves of the sea were hushed. (R.)

- They rejoiced because of the calm and he led them to the haven they desired.
Let them thank the Lord for his love, for the wonders he does for men. (R.)

SECOND READING 2 Corinthians 5:14-17

A reading from the second letter of St Paul to the Corinthians.

The love of Christ overwhelms us when we reflect that if one man has died for all, then all men should be dead; and the reason he died for all was so that living men should live no longer for themselves, but for him who died and was raised to life for them.

From now onwards, therefore, we do not judge anyone by the standards of the flesh.
Even if we did once know Christ in the flesh, that is not how we know him now. And for anyone who is in Christ, there is a new creation; the old creation has gone, and now the new one is here.

The word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

GOSPEL ACCLAMATION

Alleluia, alleluia! May the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ enlighten the eyes of our mind, so that we can see what hope his call holds for us. Alleluia!

GOSPEL Mark 4:35-41

A reading from the holy Gospel according to Mark.

With the coming of evening, Jesus said to his disciples, "Let us cross over to the other side."
And leaving the crowd behind they took him, just as he was, in the boat; and there were other boats with him. Then it began to blow a gale and the waves were breaking into the boat so that it was almost swamped. But he was in the stern, his head on the cushion, asleep. They woke him and said to him, "Master, do you not care? We are going down!" And he woke up and rebuked the wind and said to the sea, "Quiet now! Be calm!" And the wind dropped, and all was calm again. Then he said to them, "Why are you so frightened? How is it that you have no faith?" They were filled with awe and said to one another, "Who can this be? Even the wind and the sea obey him."

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ.

PROFESSION OF FAITH

I believe in one God,
the Father almighty,
maker of heaven and earth,
of all things visible and invisible.

I believe in one Lord Jesus Christ,
the Only Begotten Son of God, born of the Father before all ages.
God from God, Light from Light, true God from true God, begotten, not made, consubstantial with the Father;
through him all things were made.
For us men and for our salvation
he came down from heaven,

(all bow during the next three lines) and by the Holy Spirit was incarnate of the Virgin Mary,

and became man.

For our sake he was crucified under Pontius Pilate,
he suffered death and was buried,
and rose again on the third day in accordance with the Scriptures.
He ascended into heaven and is seated at the right hand of the Father.
He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead and his kingdom will have no end.

I believe in the Holy Spirit, the Lord,
the giver of life,
who proceeds from the Father and the Son, who with the Father and the Son is adored and glorified,
who has spoken through the prophets.

I believe in one, holy, catholic and apostolic Church.
I confess one Baptism for the forgiveness of sins
and I look forward to the resurrection of the dead
and the life of the world to come. Amen.

PRAYER OVER THE OFFERINGS

Receive, O Lord, the sacrifice of conciliation and praise
and grant that, cleansed by its action, we may make offering of a heart pleasing to you.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

COMMUNION ANTIPHON

The eyes of all look to you, Lord, and you give them their food in due season.

PRAYER AFTER COMMUNION

Renewed and nourished
by the Sacred Body and Precious Blood of your Son,
we ask of your mercy, O Lord, that what we celebrate with constant devotion may be our sure pledge of redemption.
Through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

Sunday Message

TWELFTH SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME

THE WORD

Year B • 23 June 2024 • Psalter Week 4

Jesus has been teaching the crowds from a boat on the Sea of Galilee. Afterwards, he decides to set out in the boat to the other side of the lake. But people get into other boats and follow him - an indicator that the number of Jesus' followers is on the increase.

Suddenly, a violent storm erupts. These are common on the Sea of Galilee, which is about 200 metres below sea level. The hills around it reach to a height of about 600 metres where the air is cool and dry. However, at the level of the lake, the climate is semi-tropical and the air is warm and moist. The difference in height between the surrounding hills and the lake causes large temperature and pressure changes. These generate strong winds which funnel through the hills and drop down onto the lake, with violent results. As the lake is quite shallow (60 metres at most), the winds can whip up waves of two metres or more. This is the kind of storm that hits the boats. The waves are smashing against Jesus' boat and the vessel is gradually filling.

But Jesus is sound asleep in the stern on a cushion. This would seem impossible but Mark has added this detail for a purpose. Jesus has authority over all chaos, including the situation in which the disciples now find themselves. While they are his disciples and call him "teacher," they still have much to learn about him. In fact, their fear is so great that they doubt his willingness to save them. These disciples have seen all his miracles and have heard his teaching, yet they still do not recognise the presence of God's power in him.

When Jesus awakes, he rebukes the winds and the sea, and restores calm. His response to their lack of faith is harsh. There was no reason for the disciples to be afraid. "How is it that you have no faith?" he asks them. It's obvious they are still a long way off from the fullness of faith which he desires for them.

Jesus' words fill the disciples with awe. They wonder who he is, but the answer to their question is going to involve a long journey - one that will be filled with misunderstanding, fear and failure - before they finally come to true faith in him. ■

LEARN

God is with us always, in good times and bad.

It is okay to experience doubts and difficulties so long as we continue to trust in God.

PRAY

Pray for those who feel as if they are caught in a storm - the ill, depressed, suicidal, bullied, those who suffer discrimination or intimidation
- that they may experience Jesus's soothing, calming, saving presence with them.

"Lord, help me to trust in you at all times."

REFLECT

One of the most beloved characters in the classic BBC comedy series
Dad's Army is the butcher Lance Corporal Jones. Jones is brave and full of enthusiasm for the fight against Hitler, but whenever action or danger is imminent he becomes near-hysterical and runs around frantically shouting, "Don't panic!
Don't panic!" at the top of his voice, which,
of course, only adds to the panic and confusion.

At the very moment when he needs to be calm and have his wits about him, Jones is the very opposite. He becomes a hindrance rather than a help.

While Jones is a fictional character, he is also relatable. We may know people somewhat like him; we may even fall into the same category ourselves. The one who can keep a calm head in times of crisis is someone we admire, someone we trust, someone who can be given a position of leadership or responsibility.

The disciples in today's Gospel panic when the storm brews. They are scared for their lives. No doubt they are aware of tragedies that have occurred on that very lake, of boats that went down during storms, of lives lost. They fear it will happen to them. They are incredulous that their master and teacher is able to sleep right through it. Doesn't he realise the danger they are in? When Jesus calms the storm, they are awestruck. Even after all this time, they still do not appreciate who Jesus really is. Their faith is still lacking.

All of us, at one time or another, in one way or another, will encounter storms along the journey of life. They are part of the human condition. Like Corporal Jones, we can feel overwhelmed, panicked, afraid. This is where our faith comes in. We are asked to trust in God's loving presence at all times, to trust that even in the most difficult situations God is with us, that God will never abandon us.
Even when God appears to be sleeping, we know we need not be afraid. ■

DO

As Christians, we know that Jesus is with us in the midst of any storm in which we find ourselves. But he is more than with us; he calls on us to face that storm. To have courage.
To trust. To be not afraid. Think of the challenges and difficulties you and your loved ones are facing at this time. Ask the Lord's help in facing them.
